

CATRINA DENNIS

WRITER. PRODUCER. STORYTELLER.

PERSONAL BACKGROUND

Catrina Dennis is a writer, editor, director, and producer. She has published several written works, including short stories, comics, and audio dramas.

With a passion for voices that often go ignored, most of Catrina's work has focused on the underdog: telling stories and giving platforms to characters and people that don't fit the everyday mold. Catrina has produced several major livestreamed events and most recently served as Assistant Producer on the set and behind the scenes of LOOKING FOR LEIA, an upcoming documentary.

SKILLS & COMPETENCIES

- On-set experience as a production assistant and script supervisor.
- Has helped produce and promote multiple livestreams to cover massive events, such as World Tabletop Day and Wizard World Comic Con.
- Technical proficiency with camera equipment, Adobe Creative Suite 6, Final Cut Pro, and high-level live podcast production.
- A detail-oriented multitasker with experience in managing TV and New Media productions.

WORK EXPERIENCE

ASSISTANT PRODUCER

LOOKING FOR LEIA | Late 2019

From on-set running to shot list coordination, Catrina served as the vital extra hands several times during production. Along with on-set and production coordination duties, Catrina also created the marketing plan for the production's crowdfunding campaign, which broke records and bridged Looking for Leia from documentary to docu-series.

WRITER

DRIFTSCAPE | Summer 2019

DRIFTSCAPE is a neon-lit spin-off story within the universe of ELITEWARE, and will be Catrina's first physically published comic series. DRIFTSCAPE is a story about escapism, death, rebirth, and being human.

CREATOR, CO-PRODUCER & SHOWRUNNER

FAMCON LIVE! | May 2018

Created, co-produced and coordinated one full day of live panel programming known as FamCon. Managed a 13-hour live programming schedule, collaborated with Twitch-Partnered Channel "I Need Diverse Games" to stream the event, and invited over twenty creators, award-winning authors, and passionate fans to discuss progressive ideas and diversity in pop culture to a large online audience.

CO-CREATOR & CO-PRODUCER

WOMAN UP! | 2014-2017

WOMAN UP began as a podcast between two friends and grew into something so much more, earning a dedicated audience that participated in the show's various efforts, including charity fundraisers and conducting big interviews.
